

Through our platforms and services, we create efficiencies and improve productivity, creating more time for property professionals to do what they do best.

Our latest proptech platforms

State-of-the-art cloud-based platform which works seamlessly with your systems, aggregating your existing data, to provide and predict accurate and actionable real estate insights, with benchmarks to external data too.

A cloud-based financial modelling solution that provides visibility into the performance of a specific real estate asset or group of assets.

Robotic Process Automation (RPA) technology that mirrors human behavior to execute a sequence of steps which leads to a meaningful activity without human intervention.

Find out more at retransform.com

Retransform is a global technology provider and partner, dedicated to the real estate industry. We are experts in developing and implementing state-of-the-art technology, tailored to your business requirements.